

Bringing Hope and Healing
40 years and counting | 594 port visits | 2.56 million direct beneficiaries

What Other Leaders are Saying About New CEO Jamie McIntosh

English Language Quotes

"I have worked with Jamie McIntosh through his leadership on one of the largest public-private partnerships at Johnson & Johnson, Born on Time. He stewarded this ground-breaking partnership between World Vision, Global Affairs Canada, Johnson & Johnson and additional NGOs through the first 3 years of implementation and impact, which will ultimately save and improve the lives of thousands of mothers and babies."

Joy Marini , Executive Director
Maternal and Child Health, Women and Girls at Johnson & Johnson

"Jamie McIntosh is an inspiring leader and Mercy Ships Canada will reach new heights under his leadership. Jamie demonstrates his values in everything he does and his collaborative style will further enhance inter – agency collaboration. I wish Jamie great success in his new leadership role!"

Patrick Canagasingham, CEO
Christian Children’s Fund of Canada (CCFC)

"It’s difficult to explain how excited I was when I heard that Jamie was going to lead Mercy Ships Canada. Mercy Ships has been dear to my family’s heart since its inception, and Jamie has been one of my heroes since I met him almost a decade ago. This mission combined with his incredible skillset? This is the beginning of something truly providential."

Eric Frans, VP Philanthropy
Canadian Cancer Society

"I congratulate Mercy Ships Canada for choosing Jamie McIntosh as their next CEO. I am always impressed by how Jamie brings passion, vision, compassion and bold ideas to bear in way that ensures the worlds' most marginalized are not left behind."

Dr. Karlee Silver, Co-Chief Executive Officer
Grand Challenges Canada

